December 17, 2020

IPEX announced today they are making donations to 31 local foodbanks across North America.

We are fortunate to be part of an industry less impacted by the pandemic. We have always given back to our local communities, but this year, we felt it was important to give back more.

With the holiday season upon us, and the pandemic still with us, we are mindful of the fact that there are those in our communities who are less fortunate and are in a time of greater need. The 31 locations represent the communities where IPEX has manufacturing plants, distribution centers, and sales and administration offices. We are thankful for our business and thankful for the support from our customers and our employees.
